After two thwarted proposal attempts and carrying the engagement ring around in his pocket for three days, Glen successfully popped the question to girlfriend Olivia at their home – down on one knee, roses in hand and candles lit.

After deciding on Koh Samui, Thailand for their destination wedding, the pair enlisted the help of wedding planners Take Us To Thailand.

“Take Us To Thailand ensured that the lead up to our wedding was easy and stress free,” said Olivia. “Our dream was to be married in a spectacular and beautiful destination setting, where we could enjoy not only the wedding day but the days before and after with our loved ones.”

“We had a clear vision of what we wanted and we Take Us To Thailand to thank for helping us achieve it.” Guests enjoyed a sit-down reception at the romantic Anantara Bophut Resort, which included a traditional Thai barbecue style buffet.

“The live seafood station was a fun addition! The chef cooked up delicious fresh tuna and lobster. The food was incredible,” said Olivia.

But invariably it is the emotion of the day that always ensures the most treasured memories.

“My most memorable moment was seeing Glen tear up as I walked down the aisle towards him. Sharing our vows and saying ‘I do’ in front of our family and friends in the tranquil settings of the Anantara Gardens was truly magical,” Olivia said.
